

Corporate Biographies

Uncas Benjamin Favret III (Ben)

President and Chief Executive Officer

Ben Favret is President and Chief Executive Officer of Vestagen Technical Textiles LLC, which he founded in 2009.

A 23-year veteran of the health care industry, Favret has broad experience in sales and marketing management, product launches and start-up business leadership. Favret began his career at Pfizer Inc. where he was a top salesperson and played a key role in several successful drug launches. He was recruited away by then bio tech start up Centocor and later joined The Liposome Company, where he was instrumental in the launch of Abelcet, resulting in the company's acquisition by Elan Pharmaceuticals and subsequent purchase by Enzon Biopharmaceuticals.

Favret's next start-up experience began in 2005 with Matrix Oncology, which was later purchased by Priority Healthcare and merged into Express Scripts. Most recently, Favret served as Co-Founder and Vice President of OneOncology Inc., a provider of electronic negotiation technology for the oncology drug industry with more than $2 billion in physician registrations.

With Vestagen, Favret found a new market opportunity to deliver advanced performance textile technologies to the medical market, focusing on protecting health care workers and reducing acquisition and transmission of hospital acquired pathogens. He has assembled the strong financial support of V-10 Capital and a stellar executive team to ensure the successful launch of the company, the research program and its textile technologies.

Favret holds a B.S. from the University of Alabama. He has served on the Board of Directors for the National Kidney Foundation, the YMCA of Central Florida and USA Water Ski. He also served on the United States Olympic Committee Athlete Advisory Council and is a World Ranked Slalom Water Skier and Author of the two top selling books on Water Skiing.

Brian Crawford

Chief Commercial Officer

Brian Crawford serves as Chief Commercial Officer at Vestagen. He develops commercial strategy for the company's portfolio of products and leads all commercial functions including sales, marketing, business development and strategic planning. Crawford brings 30 years of biotechnology and pharmaceutical industry experience and a track record of success in launching major brands and creating, developing and transforming markets. Continued next page...

Crawford began his career at Merck where he spent ten years in roles of increasing responsibility. Since then he has been in senior and executive positions in sales, marketing, business development, managed care and public policy at Centocor, Elsevier, Astra Merck, AstraZeneca, Healthways, Get Well Network and Alkermes. He holds a bachelor's degree from Jacksonville University.

Lorrie Anderson

Director of Sales and Marketing

Lorrie Anderson is director of sales and marketing for Vestagen Technical Textiles LLC. Anderson has been involved in the health care industry for nearly 20 years, and brings a variety of sales and marketing experiences to her role. She has held several pharmaceutical sales positions including success in territory sales, hospital and institutional sales, sales management and national sales force communications.

At Vestagen, Anderson oversees all sales and marketing initiatives including sales force recruitment and training, marketing strategy and communications.

Anderson holds a bachelor's degree in Political Science from the University of Alabama. She has served on the Board of Directors for the Dawgs Running Club and is involved with the Central Florida Coalition for the Homeless.

Jane Moore

Director of Customer Service and Business Operations

Moore brings more than a decade of experience leading administration segments for Fortune 100 and Fortune 500 companies. With additional experience in national and international operations, Moore finds her true passion is working in start-up environments. Her expertise centers on designing and implementing operational and CRM systems and strengthening client relationships. At Vestagen, Moore directs finance and business operations, customer relations, inventory and order management, and systems and policy management.

Moore holds a bachelor's degree from Stetson University and a master's degree from the University of Northern Colorado.